RE: BICSI CECs (Continuing Education Credits) for Firestop by the Numbers

Thank you for your interest in supporting the professional development of individuals in the Information and Communications Technology (ICT) community. Upon successful completion of the referenced course/event, BICSI will recognize this course/event for:

2 BICSI CECs

These CECs will be posted on the BICSI website at https://www.bicsi.org/ams/outside_vendor.aspx and will be valid for a (2) two-year term effective from the date of this letter, or until the content and/or duration of the course/event changes, whichever comes first. It is the responsibility of the course/event provider to notify BICSI of any changes to the course/event and to request a revised CEC review.

You may market this course/event as recognized by BICSI for CECs using the BICSI Continuing Education Credit (CEC) Provider logo and marketing text. However, the BICSI name must only be used in a manner that avoids confusion or possible misrepresentation that the course/event is approved or endorsed by BICSI. Your organization is permitted to identify BICSI CECs in its course marketing material in the following manner:

"Effective 1/25/2018, BICSI recognizes Firestop by the Numbers training for the following BICSI Continuing Education Credits (CECs)."

A signed certificate must be issued to each individual who completes the course/event. The certificate must include the student name (typed), the completion date, the proper title, Event ID and the number of CECs approved for this course/event. It should be made clear to your attendees that BICSI CECs are issued ONLY to BICSI credential holders.

For questions or appeal concerning the number of CECs, please contact CECProviderApp@BICSI.org.

Sincerely,
